

REMARKS

Applicants' counsel wishes to express his appreciation for the courtesy of the telephone conferences with the Examiner on October 4 and October 26, 2006. During the course of these interviews, the claims and the prior art were discussed. Applicants' counsel pointed out the differences between the prior and the pending claims. The Examiner requested some additional clarity to indicate the "real time" operation of the subject system. Accordingly, the two independent claims have been amended to specify "real time" operation. It should be noted that the disclosure in the specification which supports these claims is identified by the heading "Real Time Compensation" (page 17, line 10) so no new matter is being added.

The Examiner indicated that this amendment would overcome the existing prior art rejection but that an additional search would be made. For this reason, Applicants have filed this Request for Continued Examination. Early action is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,
